'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

It being about that time of the year, here are some excellent suggestions for campers and tourists.

Take a trailer, it makes things so handy. Don't take a trailer, it is hard to pull over mountain roads, and dangerous in traffic.

Tie everything on your running boards, it is so convenient and if the doors are blocked crawl out of the windows. Don't put anything on your running boards because it might jar loose, it ruins the paint and besides it's against the law if it extends too far.

Baggage can be carried quite easily on a trunk rack, it is easy to put on and not an eyesore, so by all means use a trunk rack. Do not put a trunk rack on your car, the extra weight will unbalance the machine and is hard on the engine.

Oh yes it is much cheaper to eat in restaurants. Your food is always clean and you can spend all of your time enjoying the scenery and not worry about old greasy pots and pans. Be sure to do your own campfire cooking if you want to enjoy a trip to the fullest. Food prepared in that manner always tastes best and besides it really is not much bother.

Take the children with you. Leave the darlings with a neighbor, friend or relative.

The dog can find a place on the running board, he is such a boon companion on moonlight nights. Leave your dog at home, he won't be allowed in a great many National Parks anyway and you will miss much scenery on his account.

Rent your house out if you intend to be gone for a month or more it will help to pay expenses. Of course the renter will probably ruin it, but then what's the difference.

Be sure and stop the newspapers, milk, and whatnot because those delivering them will never suspect that you are not at home until the stack of bottles and papers are a yard or two high.

All of which means that if this camping trip does not start very soon another padded cell is going to be occupied.

RECENT ACTIVITIES ON INNER HARBOR SEEN AS FORERUNNER OF PROJECT

That Richmond is to be the home of a $30,000,000 steel plant was contained in well founded reports received here last night.

Although it was impossible to make a definite check on the firm involved, the name of the Bethlehem Steel company was mentioned.

The exact location of the plant was also in doubt but it was reported that a complete statement on the project would be issued today from Youngstown, Ohio.

Although several sites in and near Richmond are suitable for a plant of this nature which would require from 500 to 2000 acres, speculation last night placed it on the property of the Berkeley Waterfront company.

This company the ownership of which has long been a mystery, holds a strategic position on the Richmond inner harbor. Owning approximately 2500 acres extending from the Ford property on the Richmond inner harbor to University avenue in Berkeley.

Dredging Permit
The company recently asked permission from the U. S. Government to dredge a channel 5000 feet long and 400 feet wide along this property. The sill to be taken from this channel to be dredged to a depth of 18 feet will be used in filling in approximately 18 241 acres of waterfront land.

In view of the fact that a channel about 30 feet deep will be required to be of commercial use it is believed that another request for dredging will be made to the government as soon as the first (Continued on Page 5)

ROLPH WILL ENTER RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—UP—Candidates of Mayor James Rolph Jr. of San Francisco, for governor of California, is to be announced Thursday, the San Francisco News said today.

Rolph, according to the story, by B. W. Horne, political forecaster, has definitely decided to run for the Republican nomination for the governor's seat, and will broadcast an announcement to that effect Thursday.

It had previously been rumored that the major would not file for the nomination but would run independently after the party primaries, with the support of the defeated candidate.

"Tolerance to live and let live," will be the foundation of Rolph's platform, it was announced.

The statement said that the recent bitterness between the incumbent, C. C. Young, and District Attorney Baron Pitts, of Los Angeles, occasioned by Jacob Berners' accusation that Julian Interevents contributed heavily to Young's campaign fund in order to reserve the right to influence the appointment of the corporation commissioner, caused Rolph to believe that his position as a candidate would be strengthened.

Road District Plans Adopted

VICTIMS OF BOAT BLAST IMPROVE

The others in the craft received first aid treatment.

The others injured in the blast were Clifford H. Renfree, of San Pablo and William Cassidy, Lower Lake, formerly of Richmond. They received slight burns.

As far as it could be learned last night, Evans and Campbell were tinkering with the gas line of the marine engine in the boat when an ignition spark ignited the gasoline fumes. The occupants of the boat were either blown overboard by the blast or leaped into the lake.

Mrs. Zander, who is unable to swim, was able to keep afloat with her baby, until she was dragged into a rowboat by some of the party.

Several nearby launches and boats rushed to the rescue of the party. S. S. Ripley, of Richmond, was one of the persons who assisted in the rescue work.

The boat was purchased by Evans from Drs. J. B. and Clara Spalding. The craft was insured for $6,400.

The party was enjoying a fishing trip when the blast occurred.

2 DISTRICTS IN RICHMOND REPORT CENSUS COMPLETED

The taking of Richmond's census is progressing satisfactorily. Edward Dinkelspiel, census supervisor for this district stated yesterday while on a visit to the city hall.

Dinkelspiel was accompanied by Roland H. Flitworth, and checked the work of the enumerators here. Two Richmond enumerators have already reported their district completed. Others are reporting good progress on their work and state that they hope to have their enumeration time set by the U. S. census bureau. As the districts are reported completed, a check is being made so that the enumeration will be as nearly accurate as possible.

One of the sections reported completed is bounded by Twenty-third street on the east; the Southern Pacific right of way on the west; Garvin avenue on the south and the city limits on the north. The other area is that bounded by the city limits on the north; the Santa Fe right of way on the east, and the Belt Line railway on the south and west.

LIGHT PLAN APPROVED BY CITY

After a great deal of discussion between members of the Richmond Merchants' association and the city council last night, the proposed increase of lighting facilities on MacDonald avenue was determined by a unanimous vote of the council.

At the present time, the city is paying $3,400 a year for the lighting on the avenue. The contract with the lighting company has two more years to run.

The council decided that it was willing to permit the contract to remain in force for that period, or if a new lighting system was desired, it would pay fifteen per cent of the cost of the lighting expense.

Al Purser, M. E. Hazleton and Clark Bargar, representing the Merchants' association, contended that the city should pay a greater portion of the expense for additional lighting.

The members of the council felt that as long as the property owners in the Nevins Avenue district and Twenty-third street district were willing to pay 85 per cent of the lighting expense and the city pay 15 per cent, that would be setting a precedent to change the plan that had already been agreed upon.

The council contended that to bear a greater portion would only mean increased taxes, and that was one thing everyone was trying to avoid.

The motion to continue the present arrangement for the two year period for pay 15 per cent if a new system was installed, was made by Councilman Russel Meyer. He stated that he considered the proposition a fair one to all concerned.

"That the county purchasing agent be ordered and directed that before buying supplies, goods, wares or merchandise for the county, that he ascertain from Contra Costa county merchants the prices of the same and that prices being equal, said goods, wares, merchandise or supplies be purchased by the county from Contra Costa county merchants and not elsewhere."

Statements were made by the supervisors in which they said they had verbally informed Morrow that county merchants should be given an opportunity to submit bids.

Wanted On Record
Long maintained that his resolution only sought to place on record what the supervisors admitted they were in favor of.

12,000 ATTEND PAGEANT HELD BY REDMEN

An estimated number of more than 12,000 persons attended the gigantic outdoor pageant given by the Improved Order of Red Men at Rockville Sunday, according to a report made at last night's meeting of Onetah Tribe in the Red Men hall.

The pageant was given by combined tribes of Napa, Sonoma and Contra Costa counties, and was a dedication ceremony to the monument to Chief Solano which will be erected at his grave on the state highway between Fairfield and Cordella.

The presentation depicted the life of the Indian before the white man came to America, and showed the arrival of the Spanish and Russians to California, ending with the death of the famous chief.

Chief Solano, history says, was chief of the tribe which ranged in the Fairfield district. He is reputed to have been very warlike and is said to have conquered the majority of the tribes in the vicinity. He finally died in a smallpox epidemic which swept the tribe.

The pageant described his friendship with the Spanish general Vallejo and how the assistance of the Indians, the Spanish troops drove the Russians from the country.

At the meeting last night, Russell Meyer was honored, Tecumseh tribe from Oakland was present and its degree team conferred the adoption. The local team conferred the warrior and chief degrees and furnished a banquet. The banquet was served by a committee headed by R. H. Cunningham and Dan Noziglia.

A mammoth open air adoption will be held some time in June, with the combined tribes of the eastbay participating. The ceremonies will be held at the La Honda bowl.

Friday night, members of the local tribe will meet at the Red Men hall at 7:15 and journey in a body to Oakland where they will be the guests of Tecumseh tribe at a minstrel show.

SLAYER NAMED IN DIVORCE COMPLAINT

LONDON, April 7.—(UP)—Less than 24 hours before he was to hang for England's first matricide in 50 years, Sydney Harry Fox was named today as co-respondent in a divorce case.

Maidstone prison, Captain Alfred dawn and the hangman's noose at Maidstone prison, Captain Alfred Morse, a master in the merchant service in the far East, filed the final charge against him.

Morse obtained a decree here on the ground that Fox had been intimate with Charlotte Morse, who came to England two years ago from Shanghai to educate her children.

Thus ended the last court proceedings against the 31-year old Fox, who since the age of 13 has broken England's laws.

Early Arrest
Fox was whipped as a boy for collecting funds for an institution that did not exist. At the age of 14 he was a bellboy, and he called him "Little Lord Fauntleroy" because of his cherubic, smiling countenance.

Arrests for thefts and forgery followed in a long row. He eventually took his mother from one part of the country to another staying at good hotels and paying with false checks.

It was at one of those hotels at Margate, Kent, that Mrs. Fox died October 23, a half hour before midnight when her $15,000 insurance policy would have expired.

Fire broke out in her room. Her son, in an adjacent room gave the alarm. Other guests found the 63-year old woman dead in her favorite easy chair.

It was not until the son tried to collect the insurance that an investigation was launched. The prosecution claimed that Fox cut off his mother's breath with the thumb and finger of one hand at her throat, and held a pillow at her face with the other hand.

3 HOURS USED BY BAXTER IN MAKEUP

During the making of the early sequences of "Such Men are Dangerous," Fox Movietone all talking sophisticated drama, based on Elinor Glyn's widely read magazine story, Warner Baxter, who portrayed the leading male role, was forced to keep milkman hours.

Baxter's presence was required on the set at nine o'clock in the morning and it took him three hours to make up as the repulsive multi-millionaire and as his home in Beverly Hills is three-quarters of an hour ride from the Fox studio, it was necessary for him to desert his bed soon after four o'clock every morning in order to indulge in the foolishly formed habit of having breakfast before leaving for work.

The story deals with the fate of a multi-millionaire, repulsive in appearance, who is deserted by his wife on the night of their wedding and, who disappears from an airplane while crossing the English Channel. Later, under another name, he visits a famous plastic surgeon and has himself transformed from ugliness to comeliness. Then, he sets out to revenge himself on the woman who ran away from him, but her charm and beauty so overwhelm him that he falls in love with her again.

Catherine Dale Owen enacts the role of the beautiful bride and it has been said that she was selected for the character because she seemed the exact prototype of the girl described in Miss Glyn's story. Miss Owen is a former New York stage star and recently supported John Gilbert in "His Glorious Night." She is the most beautiful blonde in all talking pictures.

The cast supporting Baxter and Miss Owen includes such well known personalities as Albert Conti, Hedda Hopper, Claude Allister and Bela Lugosi.

The picture was directed by Kenneth Hawks and was personally supervised by Al Rickett, associate producer, while stage direction was in charge of Melville Burke.

The picture opens today at the Fox-California theater. Also on the program is Harry Langdon in "The Head Guy."

One way to keep it performing up to par is to lubricate the distributor, which lubricates many distributors, always is kept full of fresh lubricant.

STEEL PLANT ON WATERFRONT LOOMS

fill has had an opportunity to settle. This would mean that the company will spend approximately $1,000,000 on the dredging and filling project alone.

Valuable Site
As the company owns practically the entire property on both sides of the channel it will give them the most valuable industrial site on San Francisco bay.

It has been generally believed that the Santa Fe railroad bought the property for a new right of way into the Eastbay region. The railroad company would not require as much acreage for a right of way as the Berkeley Waterfront company has acquired. It is entirely possible that the railroad company does own the property and has sold a portion of it to the steel company.

Several Years Needed
Although it would be several years before the land could be used for industrial purposes, projects of this nature usually take several years before they are completed for operation.

It is known that several attorneys and a banker from the east were in Richmond several weeks ago and studied several sites in Richmond. They admitted that they represented a steel corporation.

These representatives left about a week ago after the plans for the project are reported to have been dropped. It is however entirely possible that some agreement has been made on the purchase of one of these sites. It is understood that these sites included property extending along another portion of the Richmond waterfront.

STEEL CORPORATIONS TO VOTE ON MERGER

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, April 7.—UP—The industrial battle of the decade will be determined here tomorrow when stockholders of the $300,000,000 Youngstown Sheet and Tube company vote as to whether Sheet and Tube shall be absorbed by the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

The meeting will bring defeat or victory to Cyrus S. Eaton, a comparatively youthful figure in finance who rose out of virtual obscurity five years ago to become a captain of finance and control the destinies of vast enterprises and thousands of workers.

The meeting will mark the climax in Eaton's militant campaign to preserve Sheet and Tube from "the foreigners," the veteran C. M. Schwab and dynamic Eugene Grace of Bethlehem—who would combine the two companies into a billion dollar concern second only to the U. S. Steel corporation.

As the battle entered its final stages tonight both sides were claiming victory.

Quentin Felons In Escape Try

SAN QUENTIN, April 7.—(UP)—From the same cell from which Tanko and Hall made their escape from the penitentiary in 1926, precipitating a reign of terror in San Francisco that was only ended by their deaths at the hands of police, two other desperate men attempted to escape today, but were apprehended.

Vets In Plans For Memorial Day Services

Plans for Memorial Day services, May 30, were furthered at a meeting of the Allied War Veterans' council in the Memorial hall last night. J. J. Barry presided.

The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Thomas Nee, who reported that everything was progressing favorably for the ceremonies.

The services will begin with a parade through Richmond, and ceremonies will be held at the Sunset View cemetery in conjunction with the Berkeley veterans.

The Sunday before Memorial day water services will be held at the San Rafael ferry slip and will be under the direction of the auxiliaries.

Arguments Heard In Embezzlement

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—UP—Arguments on demurrers filed by Theodore Roche, attorney for eight defendants charged with conspiracy to embezzle $500,000 from a Bank of Italy branch, were heard today by Federal Judge F. H. Kerrigan.

George Keyston, former president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, and partner in the firm of Leib, Keyston & Co., with five other officials and employees of the stockhouse and with Robert Hadaway and Joseph C. Bray, bank employees, were the defendants. Roche objected to several points in the complaints against the defendants, on technical grounds.

The brokerage house employees and officials were charged in a Federal indictment with having conspired with the bank officials to allow the latter to maintain dummy accounts for speculation purposes with the firm, contrary to law.

Three Held In Kidnap Attempt

RIVERSIDE, April 7.—UP—One man was near death and three others were held in the county jail here today after an asserted attempt to kidnap Mrs. Carlos Pico from her farm home near Temecula.

The wounded man was of Moya, of Perris, who hoped to take Mrs. Pico from the home of her husband. The latter said he had received threatening letters from Moya and was on the lookout. Awakened by a noise at the window last midnight, Pico fired a revolver and wounded Moya in the back. Pico and Moya's two companions, Tom Washburn and Joe Aguilar, were taken into custody.

Restaurant Chef Left Fortune

SANTA ROSA, April 7.—UP—Inheriting a fortune means little to Harry A. Moyes, of this city. Moyes, a cook at a local restaurant, just received word that he had been bequeathed a quarter of a million dollars by a brother in the middle west. He took the news of his inheritance calmly, and stated his intention of remaining "on the job" indefinitely. ## Bachelors Tots Background For High School Play

Wailing children and frantic, wild-eyed bachelors were the implements used by David Belasco to create one of his most successful stage offerings, "Daddies," which will be presented Friday evening by the Richmond union high school Students association at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The adoption of four war orphans by five bachelors is the theme of "Daddies." Complications start to gather when a well-meaning friend attempts to marry the bachelors off to young ladies.

Why not enjoy the convenience of Natural Gas for heating your home?

Was it a troublesome task to heat your home last winter because of the work and fuss of starting a fire? If so, why not plan now to say "Goodbye forever to the drudgery of obtaining heat?"

People everywhere are turning to the one type of heating which is the most convenient. And really, you should investigate this modern method of heating before you buy any fuel for next winter.

The most convenient heating equipment burns Natural Gas fuel. It is entirely care-free. A touch of your finger is all that is required on your part to have a steady, even temperature for a few minutes or for all day—just as you wish. There is no soot or dirt, for gas is the cleanest fuel of all.

Furthermore, gas-fired heating equipment gives healthful heat. Many leading physicians are heating their homes with it and are recommending gas-fired heating to other people. They know that Natural Gas is safe and healthful when burned in modern appliances, correctly installed and properly connected to a chimney.

For further details, see your local heating dealer or call at our office.

Manufacturing Firm To Build Bay Point Railroad Spur

MARTINEZ, April 7.—The San Francisco-Bay Point Manufacturing District, Ltd., was today given permission to construct a spur railroad track across the county road between Avon and Bay Point by the board of supervisors. The company, according to David Zook, president, intends to continue the road ultimately, as far as Point Edith.

The corporation several months ago, purchased from the C. A. Hooper company 500 acres of tide land, which, according to a letter to the supervisors, it intends to develop "for industries that plan to locate in this section."

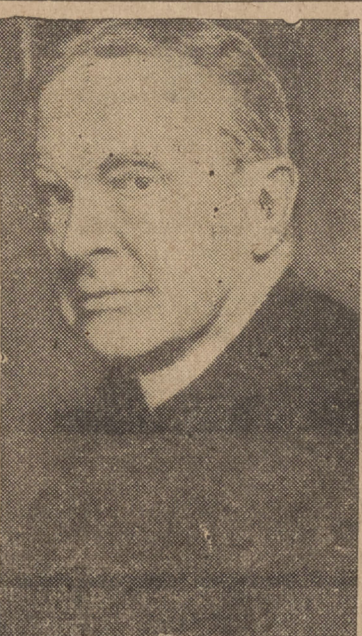

Although Zook declined to state what industry he expects to locate on the property, plans submitted to the supervisors today indicated that extensive improvement of the acreage is contemplated.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE BALL SEASON TO OPEN TODAY

ACORNS MEET HOLLYWOOD IN OPENER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—UP—Probable batteries were announced tonight for the opening games of the Pacific Coast league Tuesday afternoon.

On the eve of the 1930 season every manager of the eight-club circuit was optimistic and participation of fans in pre-season guessing contests for passes to the ball parks had been as keen as ever, presaging a successful six months ahead.

Fair weather with temperatures above normal has been forecast for each of the four cities in California where opening games will be played.

Pitching Duel

Baseball followers who are unable to attend the festivities of the first day will probably look first for the outcome of a pitching duel in Los Angeles between Carl Mays of Portland and Clyde Barlow of the Angels.

Los Angeles has been made a slight favorite over the San Francisco Seals, while Portland has improved during the winter until it is considered an excellent chance to be in the first division, most of the time Mays and Barlow are destined to be among the leading pitchers this year. Warren is slated to catch Barlow and Woodall will be back of the plate for the Beavers.

Batteries Told

Other probable batteries are: Seattle at San Francisco; Indians, Wilbur Hubbell or Rudy Kallie and Borranant; Seals, Jack Knight or Curt Davis and Gaston.

Hollywood at Oakland; Stars, Hansel Hulvey and John Bassler or Henry Severid; Oaks, Howard Craghead or Pete Daglia and Ernie Lombardi or Pete Read.

San Francisco Missions at Sacramento; Missions, Herb McQuaid and Fred Hoffman; Senators, Ed Bryan and Art Kowley.

In these announcements can be seen the strategy that adds interest to the game. Some managers refuse to commit themselves to one pitcher or one catcher before the men start to warm up just before the game.

Flag raising ceremonies will be observed at all parks. In Los Angeles Mayor John O. Porter will pitch the first ball to Arthur Eldredge, member of the board of public works.

Mayor James Rolph, Jr., will hurl the inaugural ball here.

Sacramento will be honored by a visiting notable, Gen. William E. Gillmore of the Army Air Corps who has agreed to go on the mound before the game and Mayor C. H. S. Bidwell will catch.

The only pre-game celebration at Oakland will be a luncheon in honor of Hollywood and Oakland teams attended by 500 prominent persons.

The umpire's cry of play ball will probably be heard by at least 50,000 persons in the parks and thousands of others listening in on radios.

Channel Not Barred Against Boat Racing

Officials of the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation declared yesterday that the "No Trespassing" signs posted at the inner harbor dock do not prohibit the Richmond Outboard Motor club from using the channel for races or other purposes provided that the start is made at some other point than at the terminal.

The statement was made following the report of members of the club that when they went to the bay to hold impromptu races Sunday, they were barred by the signs.

According to Thomas Goddick, secretary of the Parr corporation, and Charles Engel, terminal manager, the signs have been posted merely to protect the dock from fire that might be caused by careless boat operators.

The officials declared that some of the boatmen recently have refused to respect warnings against smoking and refueling their boats at the inner harbor dock, and the insurance company has demanded that the signs be posted and the rules enforced.

Goddick and Engel declared that they had no desire to halt boat racing on the inner harbor, but they believed that members of the boat club should find some other place away from the dock to start their boats.

Although he was not present on Sunday, George Lawler, commander of the club, said that the Parr Corporation was entirely within its rights and showed good judgment in seeking to protect the property from possible fire. He said he would be forced to take the same precautions at the Lauritzen terminal, but he believed that if the club took steps to provide its own terminal, the situation would be solved. He added that he believed an out of town boat owner was the cause of the ban being made.

Carnera Bout At Phoenix Sought

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 7.—(UP)—Efforts were being made here today to have Primo Carnera, Italian giant, stage a fight here within the near future. Owen Phelps, Mesa, Ariz., was mentioned as Carnera's possible opponent.

Billy Hunefield, Phoenix matchmaker was in Los Angeles negotiating with Leon See, one of Carnera's managers. The fight would be staged at the Phoenix Madison Square garden.

Pirates Defeated By Fort Worth Nine

M. SCHMELING LUCKY TO GET TITLE BOUT

NEW YORK, April 7.—(UP)—Having concluded his exhibition tour of German cities, Max Schmeling now is looking forward to serious training for his heavyweight title bout with Jack Sharkey June 11.

Whatever Max's private surmises may be about the outcome of that bout, the young German should consider himself just about the luckiest heavyweight contender of all time. Since John L. Sullivan's six hits, Qualander held the position behind home plate for the locals. Hopeland completed the Y. M. I. battery.

The San Franciscans offered some of the strongest opposition that the Thomas squad has had to face this year. The trans-bay ball club is an outstanding member of the State league.

Attempts are being made to schedule a contest between the Martinez and Thomas nines for next Sunday afternoon. If the game is held, it will be played on the Martinez diamond.

The two foreign contenders who fought Jack Sharkey for the championship had served a long apprenticeship at Red Tomlinson before he was selected to oppose Gene Tunney.

In the case of Schmeling, he has not a Dempsey or a Tunney to beat. He has only to get past Jack Sharkey, an in-and-out, who may or may not be good on the evening of June 11. If Sharkey is at his best, Maxie won't get past, and you may lay to that. But, if the Bostonian is having one of his indifferent nights, the German lad is quite likely to knock him cold.

Schmeling is up there on the strength of just two good fights—his victories over Johnny Risko and Paulino Uzcudun.

Los Angeles, Oaks Play Scoreless Tie In Hockey Match

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—UP—In the third game of the championship playoff, the Los Angeles Richfields and Oakland Shieks battled to a 70 minute scoreless tie in an hockey game here tonight.

After three scoreless periods featured by unusually fast hockey a 10 minute overtime period failed to break the deadlock.

BRAVES LOSE. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 7.—UP—Washington won the second straight game from the Boston Braves today 5 to 2.

Thomas Nine Drubbed By Transbay Team

The Thomas Motors suffered a 5 to 1 trouncing at the hands of the San Francisco Y. M. I. nine Sunday on the First street diamond.

The Richmond Athletics, showed in Sunday's game none of the flash that rocketed them to the title of this season's Oakland Winter baseball league. The heavy slugger of the San Francisco outfit were functioning to perfection, while the local boys were weak on both the hitting and fielding factors in Sunday's fatal contest.

Taylor occupied the box for the Thomas aggregation, and allowed eight hits, sensational San Francisco twirler, was found for six hits. Qualander held the position behind home plate for the locals. Hopeland completed the Y. M. I. battery.

The San Franciscans offered some of the strongest opposition that the Thomas squad has had to face this year. The trans-bay ball club is an outstanding member of the State league.

Attempts are being made to schedule a contest between the Martinez and Thomas nines for next Sunday afternoon. If the game is held, it will be played on the Martinez diamond.

S. O. Gun Club Defeats Pabco

The Standard Oil Rod and Gun club defeated the Pabco Rifle club of Emeryville Sunday on the Standard Oil range. The meet was a North Bay Rifle association tournament.

The scores were as follows: Standard Oil: Thompson 229; Dunne, 227; Flint, 225; Shulze, 224; Robin 224.

Pabco: Gibbins 216; Whitty 203; Muttig, 188; Peterson 184.

Local Y. M. I. 9 Defeats Concord

The Concord Y. M. I. was conquered 3 to 1 by the Richmond Y. M. I. nine Sunday at Concord. The Richmond boys displayed a fast brand of baseball Sunday in their first game of the season. John Nedo occupied the mound for Richmond, with Tom Moitazza performed behind the plate.

BEARS HOLD NORTHERN WORKOUT

SEATTLE, April 7.—UP—Ky Ebright, California crew coach, sent his three Golden Bear crews over the race course on Lake Washington today and appeared well pleased with the workout.

No time was announced but their supporters believed the Bears had an outside chance Friday afternoon to repeat their triumph of 1928 over Washington on the latter's home course.

Coach Al Ulrickson of the Huskies said his varsity finally is showing the form he has been working for all season. The Huskies probably will enter the race as favorites to win.

HIGH VARSITY 9 BERKELEY WILL PLAY TODAY

The Richmond Union high school varsity nine will journey to Berkeley today to tangle with the Berkeley high school squad on the Berkeley diamond.

Johany Babich will do the chucking for the local team in today's contest with the strong Berkeley team, while John Rosano will do the receiving for Richmond. Today's contest will be the second game of the second round of the Alameda county Athletic League schedule. The Richmondites have only succeeded in gaining a single victory this season, and they will have to stage a hard battle today if they expect to return home with a win over Berkeley. However, the Richmond boys gave the Berkeleyans a close race in the first round battle, and there is a possibility that the college town athletes will not be so successful in their second clash with the Richmond high school varsity.

The local high school varsity athletes will again see action Thursday when they tangle with the Emeryville high school outfit on the First street lot. Lenan will occupy the mound in the Emeryville game.

No A. C. A. L. baseball contests will be played during the Easter vacation next week. On April 22 the Richmond high school varsity squad will meet the Hayward outfit on the local high school diamond. The Richmondites will also cross bats with the Alameda high school athletes April 25th, at Alameda. The postponed game between the Emeryville and Richmond high schools will be held at Emeryville on April 29.

Two Colleges In Big Merger

GALESBURG, Ill., April 7.—UP—Modern business principles were applied to education today when presidents of Knox and Lombard colleges, rival institutions here for almost 80 years, decided to merge them.

Knox college was founded in 1827. Lombard college, started in 1851, was the first in the United States to be chartered, as a co-educational institution, giving full academic rights to women.

Chicago Cubs Under Spell Of Hard Luck

CHICAGO, April 7.—UP—The injury "jinx" threatens to start the championship Chicago Cubs on the 1930 National league baseball pennant chase with a less formidable outfit than the one with which it began the season last year.

So consistently has hard luck trailed the team this spring that at present three regulars are out of playing shape and the pitching staff is not what it was expected to be at this time.

As things now stand, Rogers Hornsby and Charles Grimm, guardians of second and first base, are not in the lineup. Lester Bell, who was regarded as the regular third-sacker, is limping along with an arm which refuses to function. He is in the lineup principally because there is no one else to play.

Hornsby still is bothered by the sore heel which troubled him during last season.

Grimm is suffering from a broken rib, but doctors believe the injury may heal in time to open the season.

Mrs Pressler Leads Matches

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—UP—Mrs. Leona Pressler, of Los Angeles, defending champion, had the medal score of 78, five under women's par, in the qualifying round of the California State Women's golf championship held today.

Mrs. Roy Green and Mrs. F. M. Slade, both of Los Angeles, shot 82, Miss Helen Luscombe, San Diego, and Miss B. Gottlieb, Los Angeles, took 84 strokes. Match play starts Tuesday over the Wilshire Country club course.

Ruth Still Out Of Yank Lineup

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 7.—(UP)—With Babe Ruth out of the lineup with a wrenched leg, the New York Yankees defeated the Little Rock Southern league club today 7 to 5.

Brooklyn Nines Win Two Games

Local Tennis Squad Loses To Oaklanders

Four out of nine matches were won by the Richmond Tennis team over the Oakland squad Sunday on the Oakland courts.

In the single matches Sunday, Jimmy Hurley, Richmond, defeated A. Huffaker of Oakland, 6-2, 5-7, 6-1. Jack Murdock of Richmond was victorious over Al Connolly of Oakland with a score of 6-3 1-6 and 6-4. Phil Carlin defeated Dr. A. E. T. Bucknell of Oakland 6-4, 6-3, while Ian Malcolmson defeated Ed Benjamin 2-6, 6-2 and 6-3, and Fred Childs of Richmond lost to Norman Elrsted by a score of 6-2, 6-3.

In the doubles, Peterson and Bryant played a fast, close match with Smith and Malcolmson of Oakland, but the locals finally lost 8-6, 6-4. Darrow and Irving Sutton of Richmond conquered the Oakland team consisting of Al Connolly and E. Benjamin with scores of 6-4 and 6-3. Hayes and Hurley of Richmond lost to Suckney and B. Benjamin 6-4, 6-3.

Sunday's tournament was the first tennis play in the northern California inter-club competition. The local tennis athletes will clash with the Mosswood club of Oakland next Sunday on the Richmond city hall courts. On Easter Sunday, the Richmond team will travel to Sacramento to meet the Sutter tennis club of that city.

A social evening will be enjoyed by the Richmond Tennis association tomorrow evening at the city hall following the regular business meeting of the club. The business meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Legion Ball Team Players Will Be Named Today

All lists of teams wishing to enter in this year's junior American Legion baseball league must be submitted by team managers by 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to George Miner, director of the league.

The team managers must be able to give the statistics concerning their players when they hand in their team lists today.

Almost 40 teams are expected to participate in this year's junior American Legion baseball competition. Games are scheduled to start Monday afternoon.

proper. Might be it is the fever. Your blood, it feels hot?"

"I am quite well. Leave me!" Only with an effort did she refrain from shouting the words at them.

They went reluctantly. A queer coldness was at her heart. She stared across the water. Her island, her dear island, had lost its beauty and charm. It didn't seem the same at all. The cause was now an indeterminate black something in the distance. Putting off from the village was the cutter's small boat, the white figure of David in the stern. She watched it come closer, grow bigger; saw the shining of the oars.

CHAPTER VI

Despite the distance still made of David a mere spot of white, she strained to see his face, read his expression. If he had read the island to be all that the crew-boys and the half-caste had said, he would not be easily induced to leave it. He was a difficult man to sway. There was for instance the determined resistance he had made to her allurements at Samara. His practically would regard the leaving of Motogaru as absurd and ridiculous. There would be a clash between them.

Well, if it had to be, he had to be! She was determined not to be encompassed again by the chain. As the small boat drew closer, she went to the rail.

And presently David, seeing her, waved a hand, and then his helmet in boyish, exuberant fashion, and sent across the water a shout of pleasure. She took a steady grip of the rail. Then David had found the island to be suitable!

"Oh! she breathed; and out of this vocal reaction to the knowledge that her task was to be truly as difficult as she had feared came some of the outward calm for which she had striven; and she was glad of it. She had a feeling of being sure of herself as she watched the boat glide alongside and David climb up on board.

"Sorry I have been so long," he said, as he came eagerly along the deck. "But you know what it is with natives—how they take such a time to say what they have to say, and all the rest of it. Knowing you were so anxious to get ashore, I hurried back as quick as I could."

His eyes were alight with satisfaction.

"Our luck is in, Stella! The doubts I had about this island are gone. It is an ideal place. There is everything we want ashore there—friendly natives, coconuts, everywhere, a fortune waiting to be picked up. It is even better than our crew-boys said, and that is saying something. Just wait till you have seen it, Stella!" He laughed from gratification. "It seems almost too good to be true. It must have been some good fairy that sent us to Motogaru."

Her face half turned from him, Stella looked almost unseeing across the lagoon. The small-boat pumped gently against the cutter's side and tugged at its line, as though eager to be away again.

"And that is not all, Stella! What else do you think there is? Have a guess! I'll give you three guesses!"

"I don't know"—colourlessly.

In his enthusiasm he noticed neither her tone nor her manner, but went on:

"I have been afraid that you would be lonely here. I have thought a lot about it. Living on a lonely island might be all right for a man, but for a woman—well, I've wondered how you would take it after a while. I've thought as much as to attach to his next words a full significance. "You are not going to be so lonely after all! What do you think of that? There is a pearler anchored at the other side of the island—a fine old chap named Melrose—and he has a daughter, a young woman of twenty-five or so, I understand. I didn't meet her, but I did have a talk with her father, and from what he told me, I guess she'll be good company for you. She has been to school in California, and roamed about a good deal."

He surveyed her dress, noticing for the first time.

"All dressed up in honour of landing on this island of ours, eh?" he said, smiling. "Well, come on! There's no reason why the natives should be delayed any longer." He picked up his helmet and put it on. "Manna, you will row us ashore, and let Dolobe have a spell. Ready, Stella?"

And he made to take her hand, to help her over the side. She pulled away from him, and issued her declaration of opposition:

"Not!"

"For a moment he stared at her in surprise. To a deep-sea swell that had crept over the reef the cutter swayed a little. A ripple of tide went gurgling past.

"Why, what's the matter?"

"Our island! It is not our island any longer."

SYNOPSIS

David Wade, robbed of his savings while drunk, is persuaded by the appeals of Stella Blackney, who had cared for him, to take her away with him from New Guinea. She is married to O'Shane, the man who robbed Wade, but has never lived with him. He was not to claim her until the death of her dissipated mother. Following her mother's death, she and David flee to the island of Motogaru. Stella has come in love with Wade and fears that the half-caste girl, Moira, who wants a white husband, will win him away from her.

CHAPTER V—Continued

She lit the cigarettes and held out her hand. "Goodbye, Mrs. Wade, for the present," she said, and with her loose, crossed step went along the deck. Her natives got down into the canoe. She gave a sharp command to the paddlers. The canoe shot away like a thing alive, and glad to be alive.

Lo-oru and Manna came to Stella. "They good," kind people, those men in the canoe," said Lo-oru.

"They glad that a trader comes here to live," said Manna.

"They gave me a leaf for my hair and to Manna an armshell that goes up to his shoulder, so big is it. Look at it, sinabada."

"Yes, I see it," said Stella tonelessly. Lo-oru looked at her quickly and anxiously.

"I think you are sick, sinabada, a little bit sick. Your eyes not

INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES OF CITY SET FORTH BY CHAMBER

Richmond's many advantages as a site for industries is set forth in the April number of "Richmond United" now in the hands of members of the local chamber of commerce.

The issue is entitled "Richmond A Good Place for Industries" and is designed as a companion booklet to the publication printed a month ago called "Richmond a Good Place in Which to Live."

The number gives information of all kinds concerning Richmond including transportation facilities, water, switching charges and rates and a summary of the general conditions which have attracted such large concerns as the Standard Oil company, Santa Fe, and the Ford Motor company.

Transportation Systems
A feature of the issue is summary of the transportation system as follows:

In transportation the city of Richmond has everything. Communities to succeed in the modern business struggle must possess rail, water and highway transportation, plus airports or airport sites.

Richmond has all these advantages in good measure—railways, waterways, highways and airports.

A careful study of the accompanying drawing will show in detail the various means by which goods and passengers may be moved into or out of the city of Richmond and will prove that transportation is provided in abundance.

Two Railroads

There are two transcontinental railroads—the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe. The Southern Pacific main line passes through the business section of Richmond, but does not interfere with traffic because of an automobile and pedestrian subway. The freight and passenger station on Macdonald avenue is well situated to provide the maximum of service.

A drill track leaves the main line near Stege and runs along Seaver avenue to the inner harbor where it meets tracks that are jointly operated with the Santa Fe serving the new industrial and shipping zone in that district.

The Southern Pacific also operates a direct ferry to San Francisco with boats leaving at frequent intervals from the outer harbor. A bus carries foot passengers from the business and residential districts.

Santa Fe Terminals

The Santa Fe has Richmond as its western terminus and site for its great shops. This railroad was the first great national corporation to recognize Richmond, coming here nearly 30 years ago. Passengers bound for San Francisco are ferried on Santa Fe steamers. The company owns substantial acreage in various parts of Richmond notably along the Cutting canal or Ellis Slough where a large development program is planned that will extend the inner harbor and bring deep water ships up to Cutting boulevard.

The Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe have cooperated aggressively in the task of forwarding Richmond's industrial interests. Lester G. Eby of the Southern Pacific and J. A. Christie of the Santa Fe are members of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

Street Car Line
Street car service links Richmond with Albany, Berkeley and Oakland, and transports Richmond people to various parts of their own city.

Streets within the city are wide and well paved and connect with San Pablo avenue, the main north and south highway giving the best of road transportation to all parts of the state. Cutting boulevard is the chief industrial highway running from San Pablo avenue to the inner and outer harbors.

Water transportation is of growing importance because of the harbor program under way in Richmond. There is a moderate shipping facility at the outer harbor and a newer one at the inner harbor, both operated by the Port-Richmond Terminal company under a joint arrangement between the municipality and the company headed by Fred D. Parr. Thirty-two feet of water is provided and a wide channel is kept clear at both terminals.

Air transportation is not yet arranged for, but ideal sites exist on the north shore for airports and these undoubtedly will be developed as the need for them becomes apparent.

The numerous transportation mediums shown prove the great advantage which this city enjoys as a shipping, commercial and industrial community.

CHINESE GOODS BOUGHT BY COUNTY

do exactly as he pleased without regard to the welfare of the taxpayers of the county.

"Since the last meeting of the board," said Long, "I have been investigating a number of things concerning the county purchasing agent's office, and I am simply amazed at what the investigation has brought forth."

Presents Evidence
"I have a copy of a bill in my hands that was allowed to George Bros & Co. of 644 Washington street, San Francisco. It is for overalls, shirts, and socks. The following are the items on the bill:

12 dozen overalls.....	$50.00
10 dozen socks.....	11.50
2 dozen shirts.....	13.50
2 dozen shirts.....	15.00
Total .....	$90.00

"That firm is a Chinese sweat shop, conducted by a Chinese at the street address above given. To thoroughly satisfy myself that I was not wrong I paid a visit to the place, and found about 30 Chinamen, and 25 Chinawomen at work. The conditions were unbearable.

"Now I submit that conserving the interest of the taxpayers, as the county purchasing agent claims, does not go to the extent that the white man should be overlooked, and the Oriental given the preference.

Change Demanded
"If this county is going to continue to work along these lines, and ignore the merchants of the county, who are paying their taxes, I submit, in all fairness there should be a stop put to it."

"I submit if the purchasing agent is attempting to make a record for himself the people of the county will not stand for it being made in such a manner."

"The purchasing agent may attempt to justify his purchase of this bill of goods by saying that he did not know the firm was a Chinese firm, but I want to tell you it will not hold water. Mr. Morrow is acquainted with practically every wholesale dealer in this bay section. He must have known that the goods were coming from a Chinese sweat shop."

Prices Are Met
"I took the same items that are on this Chinese firm's bill, and submitted them to Richmond merchants, and these men will furnish the goods to the county, for but 50 cents a dozen higher than was paid to the Chinese.

"My resolution is general in its scope, and is intended to protect the interests of the taxpayers. It provides that county merchants should at least be given a chance to bid on supplies. The purchasing agent has admitted to me, that this was not done.

Probe Continues
"There are many other things in connection with this office that have recently come to my attention. I am investigating them, and will lay the facts before the board at a future meeting."

Talks were then made by Supervisors Trembath, Olsen and Hayden and Buchanan in which they said they did not think the resolution should be adopted. The supervisors stated they had spoken to Morrow verbally and instructed him to submit offers to county business men.

Long again took the floor and said that the resolution was in-

Long in his closing remarks said he was not through with the matter, and that the board would "hear from him again."
